SPRING 2024: ONLINE ASYNCHRONOUS with JANET GIDDINGS FULFILLS GE AREA E

Catalog Course Description

Philosophical issues concerning the origins, development and maturation of the self.

Welcome from Prof Giddings

It is a pleasure to teach and work with students in this course where we examine ways of understanding the human as Self-Person, as psychological, as a public person, an alive person, a dead person, a brain-dead person; a person in love; friendship, sexuality/gender, spiritual; soulful, and more. I welcome all students who embark upon such a value-added course.

This course is online asynchronous which means students work through weekly Modules on their own and interact with other students in required writing/discussions. Modules open early on Sunday and all work is due by Saturday night @ 10 p.m. This course is fun.
